

Quest Retail Technology Conference 2005

The 2005 Quest Retail Technology conference was held at the Stamford Plaza Adelaide, South Australia. Over 75 delegates representing 40 resellers were present from all areas of Australia, as well as the Netherlands, & New Zealand. The networking and interaction of all resellers present has proved yet again to be a major highlight of the annual event.

The major releases at the Quest conference included the new 15" V-touch, Stockman & the KMC Bump Bar.

Each year during the formal dinner held at the Quest Retail Technology Conference, Quest takes the opportunity to present some awards & certificates of recognition for the 2004-2005 financial years.

The 2005 Reseller of the Year award was awarded to Task Retail. Task Retail has shown their commitment & support throughout the year with the rapid growth of their business. Quest would like to congratulate the whole Task Retail Team for their efforts in winning this prestigious award.

"Task Retail attributes its business success to its absolute commitment to Quest hardware & Task Manager software, enabling it to deliver the best solution to the hospitality industry.

Our team of experienced consultants assists clients in selecting the right solution for their business and our support team removes the stress of installation and training.

The best evidence of the quality and value of our products is the glowing endorsement given freely by our clients"

The 2005 International Reseller of the Year was awarded to Advance Equipment Supplies, following up on their Reseller of the Year award last year.

“Advance Equipment Supplies achieved a landmark this year, completing the 1000th Quest installation in New Zealand. It has been an incredible journey for us to reach this point, but we realise that none of us can rest on our laurels. We need to keep doing things better, and give our customers every reason to want to stay with AES and Quest. My motto is “better than before”, and the award of Quest International Reseller of the Year certainly encourages us to keep on improving.”

Kevin Stratton

“Moorilla Estate” won the most innovative installation award, which was installed by Tasmania’s KWMC. At this site staff are able to adjust the blinds, lower plasma screens, adjust the lighting and control the volume of music, all from the keypad of their V-touch terminals. A very innovative enhancement to the V-touch functionality and another great example of the versatility of the Quest POS System! Quest congratulates Paul French & the KWMC team on their innovative approach.

“Velvet Rope” won the most comprehensive installation award, which was installed by Australasian Point of Sale Solutions. This site incorporates a diverse range of Quest products in unique and various applications. Products used include V-touch, Walkabout Handhelds, RF Clerk Security and PCM Printing, as well as comprehensive use of Accounts / Members, Table Charging, and Print Back functionality throughout the site. Well done to Mario & the team at Australasian Point of Sale.

Congratulations to all resellers on their outstanding achievements.

The support and feedback received from the delegates who attended the 2005 Quest Retail Technology conference was very positive. It is this enthusiasm and commitment that pushes the Quest product to the next level.
